

Benefits of Membership

Monthly programs help you get serious about your writing.

- Enhance and improve the craft of your writing.
- Learn from and network with industry professionals and/or peers.
- Get savvy about marketing your work by attending presentations by published authors and experts in publishing, marketing, or social media.
- Receive valuable editorial input by establishing or joining a critique group.
- Get support and camaraderie from other writers.
- Receive discounts on CWC branch meetings, conferences, workshops and events.

Membership also gives you exposure.

- Get published in The California Writers Club Literary Review, which is open to members only — find out more at calwriters.org.
- Join other CWC branches at a discount under what is called "Dual Membership."
- Get your book launches and other events posted on our branch's website and email newsletter.
- Create your member profile and listing on the CWC Marin website with a link to your website.

All of this for only $65 (includes a $20 new member fee paid to the state organization). Current members can renew for $45. Dual Membership (Marin as your secondary membership) is $25. Full-time students may join for $10.
