

Finding Your Voice: Member Panel Discussion

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26
7:00 - 8:30 PM (PT)

Voice is about establishing our personalities as writers and connecting with readers through our writing style. Our tools include tone, verb tense, point of view (first, second, or third person pronouns), and more. How we use these tools is important because it shapes what we are saying and why.

Do you have advice for others, or do you want to share your challenges?

Our October meeting will kick off with three diverse approaches to Voice and Point of View, provided by panelists selected from our own writing community. We will then open it up to discussion from the audience. We hope many of you will want to be active participants.

For this special event, Members attend free. Only $5 for Non-Members.
